EDITOR'S NOTE

Happy Galentine's Day!

For those of you who, like me, never watched the television show, Parks and Recreation, no, I didn't misspell Valentine's above. I recently was enlightened regarding February 13, "Galentine's Day," a day on which friends, especially girl (gal) friends, celebrate the nonromantic friendships in their lives, since not every gal gets a valentine from a sweetheart the following day. Made popular by the character, Leslie Knope, played by comedian, Amy Poehler, the day traditionally can be celebrated with friends by going to brunch, a movie and exchanging crafty blessings. Sounds like most of the outings we in Corsicana celebrate often throughout the year, doesn't it? Whether it's the theater, shopping, club activities or just getting together for coffee, we gals seem to have fun "Around Town." Guys do, too, I've noticed. Friendships are important. We live in a friendly city, and finally, we're able to get out and see each other again.

Working puzzles are a way to keep mentally sharp during these cold days, and I've purchased a special mobile tray on which I can work Best Places in America and National Parks puzzles with my granddaughter, Sophie. She's studying the states this year, so it'll be fun to "travel" this way. She is still recovering from the removal of a brain tumor, and I have arthritis sneaking into my overworked fingers, so working with puzzle pieces is also occupational therapy for us both. It will be a shared challenge and one in which she's likely to best me. We might have to pause the puzzles occasionally, however, to enjoy the Winter Olympics and Oscar Night! Hmmm, wonder what the stars will be wearing this year?

Have a wonderful month!

Acts of Kindness

— By Virginia Riddle

A bright smile, a helping hand, a listening ear, a willing spirit — Mr. Johnny “Bubba” Calhoun has been described in all these ways. He’s remembered fondly by many Corsicana ISD students, parents and staff members who knew him during his 20-year career at Bowie Elementary as head custodian, and, at 81 years young, he still works part time at a flea market and volunteers to help anyone who needs grass mowed or a little something done. “I start my day’s journey by giving it to the Lord,” he said. “I like to stop by and see how people are. They always say I made their day.”

A Corsicana native, Mr. Calhoun and his brothers grew up picking and pulling cotton and doing “whatever we could” to help their family. He was attending G.W. Jackson High School when his father died while moving a house. “I dropped out of school to help Momma more. She worked hard, too. For fun, I rested,” he remembered. “I’ve worked from having to use horses to today’s tractors.”

For many years, Mr. Calhoun worked for Chattanooga Glass Company putting labels on bottles. “That machine turned and never stopped. It was like a thrasher, and that job was OK, but I had always wanted to work in the school system,” he recalled. That opportunity finally came. “Mr. [Jerry] Ashcraft hired me to be a custodian at Bowie, and then in the summers, when schools shut down, I headed up crews on other campuses. We cleaned everything, and got the job done,” Mr. Calhoun said. “I couldn’t have asked for a better place to work. The teachers and kids were great.”

Recently a gathering, organized by Rosie Driver Travenia, was held in honor of Mr. Calhoun. The event was hosted by Nancy Neal. At the event, Sandra Hughes, a former Bowie teacher said, “He has an amazing, giving heart, and the Bowie staff always admired and loved him. I remember how he paid for children’s lunches, so they wouldn’t be embarrassed. He bought shoes for children, and he kept belts in his janitorial closet for kids without them. Mr. Calhoun would sometimes bring me a cup of hot coffee ... just because! He always came by my classroom to check on me.”

Another staff member, Debbie Meador, remembered Mr. Calhoun taking care of students and acknowledging each of them every day. “We were colleagues, but I’m lucky to call him a friend,” she said.

Terri Orn, another retired Bowie teacher, recalled, "I always had hundreds of staples everywhere. Mr. Calhoun made me a long stick with a magnet, so I wouldn't have to sit on the floor and pick them up! Such a thoughtful guy!"

"Mr. Calhoun always brightened our day with his friendly smile," a former student's parent stated.

Another parent said, "Mr. Calhoun is an absolute true hero in my eyes. I would love for my kids to meet him. They all received several Calhoun Awards at Bowie. They know how special an award it is, but they don't know him." Her children received that chance at the recent gathering.

Other teachers remembered Mr. Calhoun would jump-start their cars' dead batteries at the end of long days and be available if the school alarms went off in the night or on weekends. He fixed whatever he could, including a student's wheelchair that would often break down, causing the father to make a trip to school. "I brought wrenches and took care of that wheelchair," Mr. Calhoun explained. "I gave little tasks to kids. They wanted to take care of things. If kids wanted to talk, I was there and would try to solve some problems for them. Once a boy asked me how long we were going to be friends. I replied, 'As long as you want.' I tried to always make new persons feel at home. I left gossip alone. I've tried to treat people the way I want to be treated. Linda Brown was a faithful person to work with. We custodians acted crazy sometimes to cheer teachers up."

Mr. Calhoun's advice is sound, and he practices what he preaches. "Keep talking to the Lord and keep right with Him. Give respect, and you'll get respect." To young people he suggests, "Be careful who you travel with and talk to. If you have a friend, be a friend. Think of and find something you really care about and go for it — and keep one foot in front of the next while always smiling. Remember, everybody's just trying to make it in this world, and everybody's got their own way of doing things."

In addition to helping friends and neighbors, Mr. Calhoun is an active, lifelong member of Mt. Olive Missionary Baptist Church. "I've seen a bunch of preachers go through there. I like living in Corsicana," he said. He and his wife, Christine Jackson Calhoun, have four grown children and four grandchildren, and his brother, Jack Calhoun, lives nearby. Mr. Calhoun counts as his mentors, his cousin, Wilbert Calhoun, and mortician, Bob Scott.

The seeds of kindness sown at Bowie Elementary for so long by Mr. Calhoun are being reaped these days from many of those students, now grown, and their parents. "When my wife went to the hospital with a broken leg, one of the kids I'd known was a nurse taking care of her, and when I had pneumonia, Dr. [John] Updegrove told me, 'We're going to get you well.' He brought his kids to visit me. Some of the teachers played the lottery hoping to get rich. One finally won, and she still comes over for a visit on my birthdays."

These days, kids coming to the flea market, receive Mr. Calhoun's special attention. "If I see a family's basket with no kids' toys in it, I make sure the kids leave with toys. They wave and say, 'Bye, bye, Bubba.'" NOW

—TALES OF TEXAS—

I ADOPTED THE WORLD

— By Adam Walker

Names of civil rights leaders like Martin Luther King Jr, Malcolm X and John Lewis are known to everyone nationwide, young and old. But here in Texas, much of the progress toward equality was spearheaded by an unassuming woman in old South Dallas. Juanita Jewel Craft helped change the face of race relations in Dallas and beyond.

Juanita Craft isn't the household name that the men are, but she should be. Born in 1902, in Round Rock, by 1925 Craft, as her friends called her, was living in Dallas. She earned a teaching certificate from Samuel Huston College, but worked as a maid at the Adolphus Hotel. In 1935, she joined the NAACP and found her life's work. As the membership chair of the Dallas branch, she hid the membership rolls to protect her fellow members from those who would have used the rolls to harass those fighting for change. She assisted in organizing 182 branches of the NAACP and worked hard to ensure that African-Americans paid their poll tax and secured their rights to vote. She herself had been the first African-American woman to vote in Dallas County. She was surrogate mother to the young members of the Dallas branch, advising them on life choices and choosing the right brides and husbands, as they struggled to integrate lunch counters, schools and the State Fair. She would later be elected to the Dallas City Council for two terms.

Mrs. Craft owned a small house, on Warren St., near Fair Park, but she lived in the guest house out back, running the main house as a boarding house for young men who are leaders in today's NAACP. She welcomed important figures like MLK and LBJ to her house, when they came to talk to her about her work. But she also welcomed the neighbor kids. The girl who lived next door, named her daughter Juanita, for her, and called her Neet. "Mrs. Craft met a lot of people and had a lot of photographs. On one wall of her sitting room, she had a picture of herself with JFK standing behind her. On the opposite wall was a picture of Neet," Patricia Perez recalled.

Patricia was one of those youth who spent countless hours at the Craft house. "That was my house of power. You just felt it being around her. She showed us in word and deed. She was militant, but quiet. She knew what wasn't right and knew it could be changed. She had all these community connections, and she used them to enhance our lives. I felt empowered and special when I was with her."

Bob Lydia was one of those young men who received advice from Mrs. Craft. "I rented a room from her. She'd give me and the other young guys advice on which girls to avoid. Craft was like a mother. She was also artistic. She'd buy wooden boxes and turn them into decoupage purses. She wouldn't accept any help making them, but she did take the leaves we'd bring her to use. She'd sit on her bed and put in all the screws and nails. She could sew anything. She kept a garden and canned and made jams and jellies. She was very frugal. She wanted to teach us young people how to behave and be respectful. If you wanted something done, all you had to do was sit down with her, and she'd figure out a way. She didn't have to scream and holler. I thought I was too young, but Craft decided I should be the first vice president for the Young Adult Council of the Dallas NAACP, and she made it happen."

In 1977, Mrs. Craft was interviewed for the Black Women's Oral History Project held at Harvard University. In the interview she discussed the hardships of growing up Black in the pre-Civil Rights era. Her mother died in 1935 from tuberculosis, because there was no state hospital for Black people. But she never let hardship stop her. And her reach extended far beyond South Dallas, or even Texas. She worked with Eleanor Roosevelt and other national leaders on important issues, and rallied support for Thurgood Marshall as he litigated cases eliminating whites-only primary elections and "separate but equal" education.

She was 73 when she was first elected to the Dallas City Council, where she served from 1975-1979. "When she won, she said, 'I showed 'em!' And a few other words," Bob Lydia remembered. She died in 1985, leaving behind a better Texas for all of us. Her house on Warren St. is now a Civil Rights museum. NOW

Zoomed In: Valorie Horn

By Virginia Riddle

Born in Corsicana's "old hospital," where her grandmother was a nurse, Valorie Horn enjoys the nearby "proximity of everything." A VOICE, Inc. program director, Valorie said, "I have family and my church, Taylor Memorial, here." Valorie serves on the Mary Peterson Child Care Center and the Dynamic Empowerment for Youth boards and is a Navarro County NAACP member. "I try to do as much as I can for my city," she added.

Valorie and her husband of 37 years, Clarence "Bubba" Horn, have two grown children. She loves to read, sing, lead church worship and try new restaurants. Valorie lives her advice, "Being kind, you gain more than you lose. Honesty and integrity lead families to more productive lives."

Facebook: Twilight Home Skilled Nursing & Rehabilitation

Hours: 24/7

Whether it's physical, speech, occupational or IV therapy, wound care or skilled nursing, the award-winning Twilight Home staff is ready to serve and care for those who once cared for them. "It's one of the highest honors to create a genuine and lasting bond during a resident's time at our facility," Jordan

Golden, administrator, stated. "Many of these residents I have known throughout my life. We're dedicated to the best possible outcome for all who enter our doors."

Founded in 1952, the facility has undergone recent and drastic remodeling of its building. Carved wooden desks are provided for nurses, and the dining room and coffee bar are pleasant places for gatherings and live musical performances. Outdoor gardens invite residents to enjoy the beautiful landscaping and provide delightful places to visit with friends and family. Twilight Home is managed by the Burris brothers of TAG Management and employ around 100 Navarro County locals. "We are proud of the talented and compassionate people who work here. It is more than just a job to us," Jordan explained. "There are intimate bonds created between staff, residents and their families. We're there in times of joy but also in the deepest times of grief and sorrow."

Keeping residents safe during these COVID-19 days has been challenging, as have been the new regulations. "These are unending, ever-changing tasks we face daily," Jordan said.

Yet solutions are always found. Twilight Home has earned Best of the Best Nursing Home for the past 10 years and Best Place to Work. Individual staff members have also earned Best of the Best in the following areas: Nursing Home Nurse, Social Worker, Nurse Aide, Activity Director and Boss. Special events are celebrated, but most days have a theme, such as Patriot's Day or their famous Taco Tuesday.

"Twilight has a rich and longstanding relationship in this community," Jordan added. "We love to give back and support Navarro County whenever we can." Twilight is a member of the Corsicana & Navarro County Chamber of Commerce and Leading Age Texas.

Jordan and his wife, Shelley, are Navarro County natives and are raising their three children in Blooming Grove. "Shelley urged me into this field, and I just finished my first 10 years at Twilight," he shared. "I can't imagine my life any other way." Besides Best of the Best Boss, he has received the Blooming Grove Ex-Students' Association Outstanding Ex-Student Award and the Navarro County United Way Past President's Award. He currently serves on the Navarro County United Way and the Navarro College Vocational Nursing Advisory boards and was involved in Navarro County's COVID Emergency Response Team.

The family is active at Blooming Grove UMC and with Blooming Grove school and athletic events. Jordan received an associate degree from Navarro College and a bachelor's degree in business administration from Sam Houston State University. He earned his Nursing Home Administration certification from McClennan Community College.

Twilight Home is considered a big part of Jordan's family. "An interesting fact," he stated, "my great-grandmother, Birdie Jordan, resided in Twilight Home during the 1970s-1980s until the age of 106. My grandmother, Emma Goode, currently resides here and is going strong at the age of 96." Twilight is all about dignity, respect and remembering the Golden Rule. "Our staff makes the difference. They are the backbone of Twilight, and it is my honor to get to work with these everyday heroes." NOW

SHARON BLAND

— By Virginia Riddle

Sharon Bland and her husband of 58 years, Raymond, enjoy cooking together and have lived in Corsicana for 54 of those years. Both are Corsicana natives, but Sharon grew up in New Mexico and West Texas. They prepare meals to take to church and to shut-in folks and enjoy entertaining. Self-taught mainly, Sharon took cooking lessons in high school and learned from her mother. “We enjoy down-home cooking and use foods grown from our small garden,” Sharon said. “We also can foods we’ve grown.”

The couple loves “cruising” and eating different cuisines from other countries. “We collect different recipes from friends and family,” Sharon explained. “Tex-Mex has become a favorite. At Christmas, we make baskets of goodies for our two sons and their families and our many friends and neighbors.” NOW

Taco Casserole

- 1 1/2 lbs. ground meat
- 1 onion, chopped
- 1 4-oz. can green chilies
- 1 10-oz. can enchilada sauce
- 2 oz. cream cheese
- 1 15.5-oz. can chili beans
- 1 14-oz. bag corn chips
- 1 16-oz. bag shredded cheese (divided use)
- Lettuce, chopped, to taste
- Tomatoes, chopped, to taste
- Jalapeño pepper slices, to taste

1. In a large skillet, cook the ground meat and onions; drain.
2. Add the green chilies, enchilada sauce, cream cheese and beans; mix well.
3. In a casserole dish, layer the bottom with corn chips. Add the meat mixture and a layer of cheese; bake at 350 F for 15-20 minutes, or until the casserole is hot and bubbly.
4. Top with lettuce, tomatoes, cheese and jalapeño slices.

Pineapple Cheesecake

- 1 large graham cracker crust

- 1 8-oz. pkg. cream cheese
- 1 8-oz. can crushed pineapple
- 1 16-oz. tub Cool Whip, thawed
- 1/4 cup powdered sugar

1. In a large bowl, mix all the ingredients together well.
2. Spoon into the pie shell; refrigerate until ready to serve.

Mandarin Orange Salad

- 1 8-oz. tub Cool Whip, thawed
- 1 11-oz. can mandarin oranges, drained
- 1 20-oz. can crushed pineapple with juice
- 1 3.4-oz. box vanilla instant pudding mix

1. In a large serving bowl, mix the ingredients together well; refrigerate before serving.

Caramel Popcorn

- 2 cups brown sugar
- 2 sticks butter

1 cup raw peanuts
1 tsp. vanilla
1 cup light Karo Syrup
1/2 tsp. baking soda
6 qts. popped popcorn

1. In a 2-qt. saucepan, bring the brown sugar and butter to a boil for 1 minute.
2. Add the peanuts; return the mixture to a rolling boil for 5 minutes; remove from the heat. Add the vanilla, Karo Syrup and baking soda.
3. On a large cookie sheet, layer the popcorn. Pour the brown sugar mixture over the popcorn; stir well.
4. Bake at 250 F for 1 hour, stirring every 15-20 minutes. Remove from the oven. Spread the popcorn onto waxed paper; cool before serving.

Praline Cookies

Pam cooking spray
1 14.4-oz. box graham crackers
1 cup butter
1 cup sugar
Pecans, chopped, to taste

1. Lightly spray a cookie sheet with Pam. Lay out graham crackers on the cookie sheet.
2. In a saucepan, combine the butter and sugar; bring to a boil for 3 minutes. Pour the hot mixture over the crackers; top with a layer of pecans. Bake at 350 F for 11 minutes.

Stuffed Bell Peppers

6-8 large green bell peppers
2 lbs. ground beef
1 29-oz. can tomato sauce
1 small onion, finely chopped
Garlic powder, to taste
Salt, to taste
Pepper, to taste
1 cup rice, cooked
Ketchup, to taste

1. Wash the peppers. Cut off the tops; remove the seeds and membrane from the peppers' centers. Set aside.
2. In a large bowl, mix all other ingredients, except the ketchup, with your hands until well blended.
3. Set the peppers in a large casserole dish; fill the openings with the meat mixture.
4. Bake, uncovered, at 350 F for 45 minutes. Remove from the oven; top each pepper with ketchup. Return the peppers to the oven for 15-20 minutes.
5. Before serving, pierce each pepper on the bottom so the liquid can drain.
