WE WANT TO THANK OUR ENTIRE COMMUNITY FOR YOUR SUPPORT OF RED OAK ISD, OUR STUDENTS, STAFF, AND FAMILIES DURING THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC.

- In a very short time, curriculum staff and teachers found innovative ways to continue the education of our children.
- Operations personnel handed out meals to thousands of children and devices to those who needed them for school connections.
- Constant communication with staff, students, parents, and the community alleviated concerns and fears.
- Our area churches, businesses, and individuals pitched in to provide families with food, other resources, and love.
- We continued to make hundreds of decisions every day with our students' best interest in mind.

“THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN STUMBLING BLOCKS AND STEPPING STONES IS HOW YOU USE THEM.” – UNKNOWN

To our community, we say thank you for supporting us, believing in us, and helping us use this new, temporary way of ‘doing school’ as a stepping stone to being an even better school district for our children.

April weather has rain ...

Each year, April can't decide on being hot or cold. I believe we often share the same problem. Decisions come and go, some more imperative than others. I've found the older we get, the more important our decisions are and the more they impact our futures.

Generally speaking, as children, we make decisions lightly and do what we want. Often, mentors protect us from the brutal blows of bad decisions. As adults, we consider others in our decisions — or we should — and share a deeper understanding of consequences. We are responsible and think more carefully.

I think too carefully, which is both a blessing and a curse. I recently bought a coaster for my new apartment that reads, Hold on. I have to overthink this. It knows me well. Some days, I'll spend hours arguing with myself over whether to buy a dollar sweet tea or drink water. And when did deciding where to hang a painting in my room become so difficult?

Then we have the real adult decisions, like where to go to college, what type of job we want, where we want to live, who to marry — the list goes on. These decisions we think others can make for us, but in the end, we really decide. Every decision has blessings and consequences, and they affect others around us. Maybe that's why I respect the importance of decisions so much.

However, these moments of indecisiveness do hold their own beauty. You learn to appreciate your choices — and learn from your mistakes. So, when you find yourself drenched in an April shower, remember to make sunny choices instead of rainy ones.

Let the sun shine!

TEXAS STRONG

The can-do spirit of Texas is one of resilience, compassion and faith. From localized, natural disasters like tornadoes, floods or fires to regional ones like Hurricane Harvey, Texans rally together when there is a crisis. Together, we fight the problem, and together, we solve it.

The COVID-19 social distancing measures may feel completely unnatural to how we normally deal with emergencies, but, actually, by following these guidelines and keeping each other safe, we actually are all fighting this together. We can also fight together by supporting local businesses, calling or messaging loved ones, buying groceries for people in high-risk populations and praying for one another.

Here at NOW Magazines, we are committed to helping our local economies by helping promote our local businesses. We hope to help ease some of the discomfort of social distancing by bringing some of the best of the community home to you through our stories on local residents. And though some of the events or competitions mentioned in some of this month's articles may have been cancelled after we went to press, we hope that you will be encouraged by reading about the good and positive things that are a part of your hometown.

AT HOME WITH ANTHONY AND IRIS MCCOY

DAYS OF WINE AND IVY

— By Adam Walker

Anthony and Iris McCoy are new to Ferris, but not to North Ellis County. “We moved here last May, but we had been in Red Oak for years,” Anthony explained.

Iris is originally from New Jersey. “I moved to Texas at 16, to Red Oak. It was a big culture shock. I thought Texas was just dirt and horses. I didn’t like it at first, but now it’s home.”

Anthony is from Dallas, which is where he and Iris met. “It was at a nightclub,” Iris recalled. “I didn’t care for that scene, but a friend wanted to stop in to meet her brother there. I ended up slow dancing with Anthony, with those big brown eyes and his muscular self!”

“I saved her from this old man who was trying to hit on her,” Anthony said.

“He was boring, and anyway, he was old enough to be my father!” Iris remembered.

After 26 years of marriage, they enjoy spending much of their time with their kids and grandkids. "Between us, we have a daughter, two sons, a daughter-in-law, two granddaughters and two grandsons — oh, and our daughter's dog, Lilal!" Iris enumerated.

Their house is almost as new to Ferris as they are. "We're only the second owners of this house," Anthony revealed. "The previous owner only lived here for one year. This whole subdivision is very new." When Anthony and Iris started looking for a new place, they knew they wanted to stay in Ellis County. "I work way up north, but I like to live south. I like the country feel and the lower taxes!" Anthony expressed. It's a big house with room for grandkids and friends to visit. "I like the living area, with the big TV for video games," he said with a smile, pointing above the fireplace to his favorite feature of the room. Strong, yellow walls and an inviting leather sectional situated on a geometrical rug warms the tile flooring. And Iris' curio cabinet full of Precious Moments figurines adds a touch of distinctiveness to the home.

Iris has an eye for color. "I love burgundy and green. I call them wine colors. I really like wine." The theme colors show up everywhere from the huge canvas of wine glasses above the buffet in the dining room to the green on the porcelain coffee service displayed atop that buffet. The dining room features a large, dark wooden table with plenty of chairs. "We need a big table for game nights," Iris explained.

The counter space between the open kitchen and the living room displays another kind of green, Iris' collection of thriving ivies and a mother-in-law's tongue, aka snake plant, all lined up in their planters. "My grandmom in New Jersey had a big porch with ivies. I got my love of plants from her. I have a green thumb, so this year, I'm going to be planting outside. Right now, I just have some pots of artificial flowers in the yellow iron chairs out front, but I'll be fixing that. I love to garden, and I love the outside."

That's one of the reasons the family spends a lot of time on their covered patio, and they plan to add a pool for summer fun. "You can stand out here and see the cows and horses across the hills behind the house. It's a really nice view," Iris said with a gesture to take it all in. Her love for horses clearly has grown since her teenage years.

Anthony's man cave, decorated in blue and gray, is no surprise, since he loves tailgating at Cowboys games. "I love to barbecue. I like to use fruit woods and a mix of mesquite and pecan to get the right smoke for lots of flavor. But it takes a lot of time to set up for tailgating, so it's only really worth it when the Cowboys are winning. I only did it once last season. I have Cowboys art and autographs in my man cave. I enjoy meeting the players."

Iris has set another bedroom aside as a play room for the grands. Photos of each of their sons and their daughter at their graduations grace the walls, alongside pictures of the grandkids, and plenty of toys make sure the little ones feel quite at home at Papa and Gigi's house.

The guest room features a sleigh bed and aqua curtains against the yellow walls. The master bedroom, on the other hand, has a magnolia theme and features a large walk-in closet.

As cozy as their home is, Anthony and Iris enjoy traveling whenever they can. "We like to go on cruises," Iris explained. "We've been all over the Caribbean, Central America and Mexico. I like relaxing and meeting new people from other parts of the country, and even the world. I love the sound of the water."

Anthony agreed with all of that, but added one more reason. "It's a really affordable vacation."

From the front door, to the backyard, this home says, "Welcome! Kick back and have fun." The arched doorways and growing things echo the relaxed vibe. This is a house for food, family and friends. NOW

MAKING SENSE OF INVESTING

Magical MOMENTS

— By Susan Simmons

In 2011, previous Red Oak High School student Kayla Hathaway started a VIP Prom for all Red Oak High School special needs students who would normally not be comfortable attending the school-sponsored Junior/Senior Prom. The goal was for all special needs students to be able to have the full high school experience, which naturally includes going to a magical prom. Today, nine years since Hathaway began the tradition, the Red Oak High School Special Education (SPED) department has managed to continue providing the prom through donations, volunteers and fundraising. "SPED staff members and I took over the VIP Prom in 2016," Katherine McCoy said, a special education paraprofessional at Red Oak High School. She now leads the team to put on this fun event.

The VIP Prom day begins early, when the students arrive at school. "We give them the full prom experience," Katherine said with a smile. "First, they get their hair and make-up done by the Red Oak cosmetology students. Next, they get all dressed up in their fancy dresses and suits, and they ride in a limousine around the campus to finally end up at the gym.

"Once they get to the beautifully decorated gym, the students are greeted, red-carpet style, by our ROTC Sword Detail. Inside the gym, they are entertained by Ellis County local, DJ Alex, who really keeps them moving on the dance floor," Katherine continued. "Local businesses donate all the food, and it is served by our Student Council and Future Educator students. A program called Partners PE, which was started in Red Oak in 2010, partners general education students with students with disabilities. This encourages friendships between them. Their partners from that program attend the VIP Prom with the students. Each year, all non-returning seniors are crowned Prom King or Prom Queen, and it is all recorded, along with the rest of the experience, on a lovely video produced by the students in our Audio/Visual Tech classes and given to the prom attendees and their families." The VIP Prom is given at no cost to the students or their families. Currently, they are looking for donations, especially prom dresses and suits.

"The prom is a huge hit with the students every year," Chandra Wynn-Moore, a teacher of the SPED department, shared. "The kids just love it."

Andrea Trevino, a student who attended last year, explained, "My favorite part is the dancing, picking out my dress and getting my hair and make-up done."

"The limousine drive was the best," Brandon Griffith said, grinning from ear to ear.

"Although the experience has given me so many special memories," Katherine shared, "one of my favorite ones happened two years ago when a student who is very quiet and shy got the courage to grab the mic and sing in front of everyone. It takes a lot of courage for our students to be that vulnerable and to show who they are. Our students really enjoy that their prom is smaller and is catered to them. They feel more comfortable being themselves, because they are surrounded by their peers and people who love them,” Katherine said.

“This project takes the volunteer efforts of many student groups to make it so successful,” Katherine said. “It is a great opportunity for the students to experience the thrill of volunteering their time and talents and making a difference in someone else’s life.”

The community of Red Oak has also been instrumental in making the VIP Prom successful. “Each year, we have about 60 students who attend the prom. However, when we include the volunteers and the families, we have close to 200 attendees. It is a big event, and it takes a lot to make it happen,” Katherine said.

Along with donations, the VIP Prom is financed with one big annual fundraiser — the annual Christmas market, held at the high school each year since 2014. “We raise money through booth fees and from the silent auction. The vendors all donate an item for auction worth at least $25, and we get donations from businesses all over Red Oak. The community really comes together for the kids,” Katherine explained. “We are excited about our 2020 VIP Prom, which will have the theme, ‘May the 4th be with you’ on May 4th!” NOW

Editor’s Note: For donations to this year’s auction, email Katherine at katherine.mccoy@redoakisd.org or call the high school at (972) 617-3535.

Navarro College/ Waxahachie Campus

— By Rick Mauch

Navarro College/Waxahachie Campus

1900 John Arden Dr.
Waxahachie, TX 75165
(972) 937-7612
www.navarrocollege.edu/about/campuses/

Hours: Vary, according to classes.

Administrative Offices: Monday-Friday: 8:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m.

Bookstore: Monday-Thursday: 7:30 a.m.-6:00 p.m.

Friday: 8:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m.

Big things are happening at the Waxahachie campus of Navarro College. From esports to nursing, and a lot in-between, Dean Guy Featherston and his staff of educators/employees are the epitome of a community college.

“Our inherent mission is to serve the needs of the community,”

said Mr. Featherston, who was named dean of the Waxahachie campus in January. “All of us recognize there is tremendous growth in Ellis County, and as that growth is coming, it has positioned us for educational opportunities in the community.”

The Waxahachie campus is one of two in Ellis County, the other being Midlothian, which opened in 2006. The Waxahachie campus, the second largest in the Navarro system, has been around since 1979. In all, Navarro College has four campuses. The original campus is in Corsicana, with another campus in Mexia.

For the spring semester, the Waxahachie campus had more than 2,900 students, not counting online participation, according to Dean Featherston. Each can receive associate degrees in more than 25 programs, including science, arts, applied science and arts in teaching. They also offer programs for certification and/or an associate degree for paramedics and firefighters. Cosmetology is also a popular degree.

Dean Featherston admitted that nursing is among the most popular programs offered at the Waxahachie campus, and the already renowned program just got a lot better. Beginning in the summer, through a grant, the school will offer high-fidelity simulation equipment to nursing students. The equipment will allow students to practice, in simulated conditions, virtually any scenario that might occur when working with a patient. From something as simple as drawing blood to a heart attack, they want it to be as close to lifelike as possible.

"Remember the movie, Apollo 13? They spent a lot of time in a simulator before going into space. This is like that," he explained.

The artificial patients (dummies) will simulate breathing, bleeding, even moaning and crying as if in pain. "Let's say you're doing a routine blood draw, and a patient experiences a massive heart attack. What do you do? That's covered in high fidelity," Dean Featherston said.

Also, beginning in the fall, the Waxahachie campus will launch its first sports program, outside of intramurals, with esports. The main campus in Corsicana will have an official National Junior College Athletic Association esports team that will compete in events similar to other athletic teams, with the three other campuses having club teams that will compete on a recreational level.

Dean Featherston said participation in the esports program can lead to careers, such as marketing, management, hospitality and business. "It's cornering a market that is emerging. We'd love for our club team to move to the next level and have an NJCAA team on the Waxahachie campus."

Other highlights of the school include a dual credit program with every high school in Ellis County (or any county in which they have a campus). They also feature prior learning assessment, in which students can get college credit for work in a particular career.

And, Dean Featherston expresses how students can accomplish all of this at a much cheaper cost than heading directly to a university. For example, a three-hour class at his school only costs about $400. He also noted that while cost is important, quality is even more so, as can be a small, comfortable environment. "It's a tremendous advantage. Take classes here, and then transfer. It'll save you thousands," he said. "You're going to know your professors, and your professors are going to know you." NOW

Zoomed In: Eve and Lindsey Steger

By Rachel Rich

At their beautiful home, mother Eve and daughter Lindsey Steger, held a bridal party for their friend, Rachel, the North Ellis Co.NOW editor. "It's so nice to get all of Lindsey's friends together," Eve stated. With charming decorations, delicious finger foods and interesting games to bring everyone together, they were elected by Lindsey's group of friends as the queens of entertaining.

"It's exciting being married," Eve admitted. "There will be some hard times, but there are lots of good times, too."

Both Eve and Lindsey pour their hearts out for those they care about. They are giving women, and it shows in their hosting efforts. With loving and generous hearts, Eve and Lindsey gave their all for Rachel. "We're so happy for her," Lindsey said.

CookingNOW In the Kitchen With BEVERLY MCGUIRE

— By Susan Simmons

Beverly McGuire began learning to cook when she was just 4 years old. She grew up in a large family on a wheat farm in Kansas. “We always had a garden and good food on the table,” Beverly said. “My mother was a wonderful cook and baker, and she often taught us how to help her prepare something good to feed everybody.”

Today, Beverly enjoys baking with her 4-year-old granddaughter, Gracie. “Rainy days are one of my favorite times to bake. It’s so much better than watching TV all day. If I am babysitting Gracie, and we can’t get outside to play in the yard, we will make cookies, cakes and cupcakes together. We also make delicious lemonade, which she loves,” Beverly said happily. NOW

1 tsp. Old Bay Seasoning
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1/8 tsp. kosher salt

1/8 tsp. ground red pepper
1 large egg, lightly beaten
2/3 cup panko (Japanese breadcrumbs)
(divided use)
1 Tbsp. olive oil
1 lemon, quartered

1. Pick through crabmeat, removing any bits of shell.
2. Stir together green onions, parsley, mayonnaise, lemon juice, mustard, Old Bay Seasoning, Worcestershire sauce, kosher salt, ground red pepper, egg and 1/3 cup panko breadcrumbs.

3. Add crabmeat; stir gently.

4. Using wet hands, shape mixture into 4 balls.

5. Dredge balls in remaining 1/3 cup panko breadcrumbs. Gently flatten each ball to form a 4-inch patty.

6. Cook patties in hot oil in a large skillet over medium-high heat for 3 minutes on each side, or until golden brown. Serve with lemon wedges.

Poblano Chicken Chowder

1/4 cup olive oil
3 large carrots, cut into 1/2-inch pieces
2 large onions, cut into 1/2-inch pieces
5 stalks celery, cut into 1/2-inch pieces
1/8 cup garlic, minced
2-3 small poblano peppers, seeded and cut into 1/2-inch pieces
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. white pepper
1/4 tsp. ground cumin, or more to taste
1/4 tsp. dried thyme, or more to taste

1. Heat the oil in a large stockpot over medium heat. Add the next 9 ingredients.
2. Sauté until the vegetables begin to soften. Stir in the chicken bouillon.
3. Add the chicken broth and cilantro; cook for 10-12 minutes, or until the carrots are tender.
4. Stir in the chicken; cook, stirring frequently, until the chicken is heated through.
5. Melt the butter in a large skillet over medium heat. Add the flour; stir to combine. Cook, stirring frequently, for 3-4 minutes. Do not let the mixture brown.
6. Ladle 1 cup of hot liquid from the stockpot into the skillet, whisking constantly. When the first cup of liquid is incorporated, add another 2 cups of liquid, one at a time.
7. Pour the mixture from the skillet into the stockpot, whisking to blend. Cook, stirring frequently, for 3-5 minutes, or until the mixture begins to thicken. Remove the pot from the heat; stir in the hot sauce and cream. Serve.

Makes 7 dozen.

- 1. Stir together first 6 ingredients. Spread evenly on tortillas.
- 2. Roll up jellyroll fashion, pressing edges to seal; wrap in plastic.
- 3. Chill for 4-6 hours. Cut into 1/2-inch thick slices.

Salad:

- 1 head iceberg lettuce, shredded
4 green onions, chopped
1 to 1 1/2 cups fresh Chinese snow
pea pods
1 green pepper, chopped
1 red pepper, chopped
Rice or chow mein noodles, to taste
4 oz. sunflower kernels

Dressing:

- 6 Tbsp. rice vinegar
- 1/2 cup Crisco vegetable oil
- 4 Tbsp. brown sugar
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. Accent seasoning

1. For salad: In a large bowl, toss all ingredients together.
2. For dressing: Mix all dressing ingredients together; pour over salad. Bon appétit!

Strawberry Pretzel Pie

Crust:

- 4 cups pretzel sticks
- 1 stick (8 Tbsp.) butter, melted
- 1/3 cup brown sugar

Filling:

- 1 1/2 cups water
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 3 Tbsp. cornstarch
- 1 pkg. strawberry-flavored Jell-O
- 3 pints strawberries, hulled and halved
- Unsweetened whipped cream

1. For crust: Preheat the oven to 350 F. Crush pretzels in a large resealable plastic bag with a rolling pin.
2. In a bowl, mix together the crushed

Strawberry Pretzel Pie

pretzels, butter and brown sugar. Press mixture into a pie pan; bake for 8 minutes. Remove; set aside to cool.

3. For filling: Put water, sugar, cornstarch and gelatin powder in a saucepan. Stir together; bring to a boil.

4. Reduce heat; cook until it starts to thicken, about 2-3 minutes. Remove from heat; let liquid cool 10-15 minutes.

5. Put strawberries in a bowl; pour sauce over them. Gently toss together. Set aside for 5-7 minutes. Carefully pile the coated strawberries into the cooled piecrust.

6. Spoon over a little of the leftover sauce, if needed. Refrigerate, uncovered, for 4 hours.

7. Cut into slices; serve with whipped cream. Note: Unsweetened cream helps the pie not be too sweet.
