SERVICE TO OTHERS

— By Virginia Riddle

Rotary International was founded in 1905 by Paul Harris, an attorney in Chicago, Illinois, and it continues today through the Rotary Club of Navarro County members. "One of the things that appeals to me about Rotary is the Four-Way Test," member Aric Bonner shared.

The Four-Way Test governs the way Rotarians think, what they say and/or do. "First, is it the TRUTH? Second, is it FAIR to all concerned? Third, will it build GOODWILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS? Fourth, will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?" This test, created in 1932 by Rotarian Herbert J. Taylor, has been translated into over 100 languages, so it can serve Rotarians as a moral compass in business and personal relationships worldwide.

Locally, the club's projects include providing pizza as an incentive to Boys & Girls Club of Navarro County members who achieve the A/B honor rolls, participating in High 5 Fridays with Corsicana High School athletes at elementary schools, delivering Meals on Wheels and Food for Fitness, helping Habitat for Humanity and Christmas in Action, becoming Salvation Army bell ringers during the season and providing two to three annual scholarships to Navarro County students. Past projects included providing an incentive dinner at the State Home before its closure in 2013, sponsoring a Rotaract Club on the Navarro College campus and hosting a Bowl-A-Thon before COVID. Funds to support projects are raised through the club's annual football scramble. Aric added, "When we work with the Boys & Girls Club, they collect the kids' report cards and decide eligibility. We provide the pizza and help with the party."

Aric continued, "Our club was founded by four or five members of the Rotary Club of Corsicana. Those men wanted something less formal. We've always been the smaller club, but we're very active and consider ourselves friends." The club averages about 15 members. "When people get into Rotary, they don't get out," Aric, a 27-year member explained. Other members — Bob Young; Russell Hudson; Susan Hale; and current president, Laurie Franklin — concurred.

The club's Facebook page is their source of communication with future members and the public. Also, during each month, members invite one new person to attend their meetings. "Mostly, our membership comes from word-of-mouth," Susan explained. She, due to her position with RIOT, enjoys visiting other Rotary International clubs during their weekly meetings.

When visiting another club's meeting, a Rotarian is always made to feel welcome across the globe. Typically, the club's banner is shared, so the visiting member can take it back to his/her club's collection and give information about the visit. There are over 1.2 million Rotarians across the world. The Rotary International Mission Statement is: "We Moneys are raised through the Paul Harris Foundation, PolioPlus program and grants. "We're proud that 100 percent of our members are Paul Harris Fellows," Aric said.

These Rotarians come from many different places and careers, but they all come together weekly sharing the same goals. Russell and Laurie, brother and sister, are Corsicana natives. Russell is an accountant while Laurie was a professional in Corsicana ISD. Aric came to Corsicana by way of Minnesota but was born and raised in Clute, Texas. "I got tired of the snow," he explained. He's the principal broker for The Bonner Group, and Bob is a retired pastor. Aric's mom is also a Rotarian.

The fellowship is evident in the fun these Rotarians have together while helping others. "I'm looking forward to meeting other Rotarians on a cruise this month," Laurie stated. Her best memory to date is of being present when the scholarships were presented to students. "Last year, the Mildred students were so excited," Laurie recalled. "I loved their excitement."

Aric cited their annual Christmas party as a highlight, which Susan agreed with, adding, "I like the white elephant exchange. Also, Rotary's about getting to meet and know the people you hang out with every Monday. I love the camaraderie we have each week." That camaraderie, if sensed by the passing public, might have been the reason these Rotarians raised the most money for the day on which they were Salvation Army bell ringers.

"I think the Santa's hats we wore helped a lot, too," Laurie quipped.

"We're open to new members who want to help this community. We're a small club, so it's sometimes a challenge to do everything we want to do with our smaller numbers," Aric offered. "Come have lunch with us, and try Rotary out." NOW provide service to others, promote integrity, and advance world understanding, goodwill and peace through our fellowship of business, professional and community leaders." Internationally, Rotarians work on social and health issues, including promoting peace; fighting disease, especially polio; providing clean water; improving maternal and child health; supporting education; growing local economies; and protecting the environment. Olayinka H. Babalola, Rotary International president and a member of a Nigerian Rotary Club, encourages members to create lasting change in their communities and themselves.

CSE Mobility and Scrubs

— By Virginia Riddle

For more than a decade, CSE Mobility & Scrubs has served North Texas families with one clear goal: helping people maintain comfort, confidence and independence. As a family-owned business with deep local roots, the company has built its reputation on honest guidance, hands-on service and a genuine commitment to the communities it serves.

Hours: Monday-Friday: 10:00 a.m.-6:00 p.m.

Saturday: 10:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m.

CSE Mobility & Scrubs offers a large in-store selection of mobility equipment, allowing customers to sit, test-drive and compare options so they can choose with confidence. Rather than guessing online, customers are encouraged to explore equipment in person to find the best fit. Choosing the right product can have a lasting impact on daily life. "We understand how difficult those decisions can be and how mobility affects not only the individual, but their entire family," said Erin Spradlin, co-owner and office manager. "And we're here to help."

The store rents, repairs and sells a wide range of medical equipment, including scooters, wheelchairs, lift chairs, walkers, bath safety products and incontinence supplies. Multiple brands and price points are available, along with quality used mobility equipment, helping make essential products more accessible for customers.

They also carry a large selection of medical scrubs. Popular brands include Med Couture, Koi, Healing Hands and Cherokee. Sizes range from XX-Small to 5XL, with colors spanning from pinks and greens to classic blues and everything in between. "We pride ourselves on providing high-quality uniforms that help medical professionals look and feel their best," Erin said. Compression socks and medical accessories are also available, making the store a trusted resource for health care professionals.

CSE Mobility & Scrubs was founded in 2010 by Erin's husband, Cole Spradlin, who started the business in his garage in Lancaster, Texas. "He's worked incredibly hard to grow it into what it is today," Erin said. Erin joined the business in 2017, initially handling accounting, and in 2022 helped open the company's second store, the Corsicana location, which now employs three people. The Red Oak store employs four. They all focus on providing knowledgeable, compassionate service.

As office manager, Erin does a little of everything. "Every day is different," she said. "I get to talk with customers, caregivers and families about what they're going through. It's about listening and helping people regain confidence and independence." While online shopping may be convenient, they offer something the Internet cannot: personalized service, hands-on training and in-house repairs for the equipment.

A Corsicana native, Erin attended James L. Collins Catholic School and graduated with the CHS Class of 2005. She continued her education at Navarro College and then UT at Tyler. "Corsicana is home," Erin said. Erin and Cole are raising their two children, 8-year-old C.J. and 4-year-old Charlotte, here. With strong local roots on both sides, time outside of work is spent supporting school activities, attending community events and cheering on C.J. at sporting events.

"I started my career in accounting, and this began as a part-time job," Erin said. "Now I get to work alongside my husband, serve the town that raised me and help people when they need it most. That's something we're incredibly proud of." NOW

By Virginia Riddle

Melinda Grace, a Corsicana native and graduate of Corsicana High School, enjoys spending time with friends and family. "Corsicana is still a small town with the small-town feel I love," she said.

Melinda attended Navarro College and received her occupational therapy license. She's also a licensed massage therapist and has her own business, Self Revolution Yoga & Massage. Her free yoga class at the library is how she gives back to the community.

When not working or homeschooling her two children, she enjoys watching movies, listening to live music, attending her kids' activities and pairing her business up with other business owners, including husband, Josh's, business.
