PATIENT CARE RATINGS

"Due to changing healthcare insurance companies, I had to switch my PCP. This was my first time seen at Divine Touch Medical Center. Dr. Ola-Peters and her staff were very professional and knowledgeable. I was seen at my appointment time, and Dr. Ola-Peters took time to collect my medical history, answered all questions and addressed each of my concerns. Switching providers was an excellent choice." Sheila (February 2026)

"I had an excellent experience during my annual checkup. Dr. Ola-Peters took the time to thoroughly review my previous health reports, explain everything clearly, and address all of my questions without ever making me feel rushed. She was attentive, patient, and genuinely invested in my care." Ruben (January 2026)

"Great all-around care and support from nurses, physicians, and physical and occupational therapists. I would not be where I am today without the professional and skilled providers at Methodist Rehabilitation Hospital."

DIVING INTO GREATNESS

— By Sandra Walters

Daniel Henry's journey to becoming a diver was unexpected. "I was a pretty good swimmer," he recalled. "Therefore, I joined the swim team at James Coble Middle School. Almost immediately, the coach mentioned that they needed divers, so a friend and I figured we would give it a try."

At first, it was all experimental. "I just played around, not really knowing what I was doing, but it was fun," he said. Things changed after his seventh-grade year, when he joined a club team and began to take the sport more seriously. That's when reality set in.

"At the beginning, I struggled because there were so many techniques to master," he confessed. "I didn't understand how competitive diving could be until I joined Mansfield Diving and began traveling extensively for competitions."

Raised by a football coach and an educator, he learned discipline and accountability early. As his training intensified, progress followed. By his freshman year, Daniel had already broken his high school's diving record, redefining what he believed he could achieve. "Until then, I didn't really know how good I was," he admitted.

Daniel credits much of his accomplishments to consistency and trust in his coach, who has trained him since seventh grade. Through his development over the years, he has built a strong foundation. "I've been successful because I listen. Coaches know what they're talking about so listen," he advised.

"Coach Andrew Serie taught me to visualize diving while waiting for my turn, and that really helps." This part of his preparation happens before he even steps onto the board. Visualization is a technique his coach emphasized early on, and it has become a key part of his routine.

Daniel finds the sport both a challenge and a thrill. Divers are kind of like gymnasts, but in the water. "My favorite dives are the ones that look simple. However, they require precision. I enjoy back dives because they appear easy, though the results demonstrate how difficult the execution is."

To younger athletes who are considering diving, his advice is straightforward. "Don't be afraid, and don't let fear affect your performance. Listen to your coach, and learn from others. Also, develop your aerial awareness. That keeps divers safe and consistent. You must learn how to control your body."

His mindset has helped carry him to the top. As a two-time state champion, He has earned recognition, though he doesn't see himself any differently. "I'm just a regular student like everybody else. People don't really know that I'm a state champion. My teachers may ask asks about my dives.”

His senior year has brought a different kind of balance. With fewer classes and less homework, Daniel’s been able to maintain his 3.5 GPA while focusing on what’s next. His next step is collegiate diving, where he plans to continue pushing himself both on the diving board and in the classroom.

“My goal is to compete at the highest level,” he added. “I want to keep improving through elite coaching and training and contribute to my team’s success at conference and national competitions.” He plans to attend California State University in Bakersfield or University of Nevada Las Vegas and major in business. He sees the student-athlete experience as a chance to grow in every area. Balancing academics and athletics are a priority for him.

That balance is nothing new. He trains more than 20 hours a week, juggling both high school and club commitments. On Saturdays, he does platform diving for two hours, adding another layer to his already demanding schedule.

His dedication has been steady since he entered the Junior Olympic level in 2022, competing in every meet available to him. As one of the senior members of his club team, he’s also taken on a leadership role. “I try to be a role model for younger divers,” he said. “I want them to see what hard work and commitment look like.”

His accomplishments speak for themselves. Daniel is a two-time 5A district and regional champion, a two-time Texas UIL State qualifier and a back-to-back state title winner. He has earned multiple All-State and All-American honors, set several school records and was named Boys Outstanding Diver of the Year. He has also competed on the national stage through USA Diving and represented Team USA internationally in Rome.

Despite all of it, his approach hasn’t changed. No shortcuts. Just steady work, focus and trust in the process. And for Daniel, that’s been enough to rise to the top. NOW questions about it, but not students.

“However, when I show up at diving competitions, they don’t even call me by my name. They say, ‘What’s up, Champ?’ And that adds pressure. I want to perform according to their expectations. In those moments, I lean on the same tools that got me there. I visualize, just like my coach taught me. And in my mind, I can hear my dad say, ‘Focus.’ Afterward, my mom always safety and learning. What began as a startup has quickly expanded to nine states, serving over 100,000 students in more than 500 cities through innovative online booking, digital lesson reports and high-tech instruction vehicles. Coastline, which was named one of the fastest-growing education companies in the U.S. by Inc. Magazine, has brought its proven model to Texas, opening locations in communities like Mansfield to serve local families.

Coastline Academy is committed to developing safe, confident drivers. "We were founded to reshape driver education with a 'people first' approach, focusing on developing safe, confident drivers," Nigel explained. The standardized lessons deliver high-quality instruction centered on safety.

The team of instructors includes passionate professionals from diverse backgrounds, including educators, coaches, medical professionals, law enforcement officers, retired military and firefighters. All instructors are professionally trained, licensed through the Texas Department of Licensing and Regulation and complete annual certification to ensure they deliver safe, consistent and high-quality instruction.

"Coastline Academy is the only driving school in most states to perform independent background and drug screens on all employees who interact with students," Nigel said. The company also records audio and video of each lesson to ensure everyone's safety, providing an extra layer of accountability and protection.

The Mansfield location offers teen and adult driver education, including classroom instruction, online and parent-taught programs, teen driver education at Summit High School and Timberview High School, teen shared driving lessons, adult private lessons, road tests and road test preparation. The school has expanded its teen driver education cohorts for the summer with additional dates and times to better fit schedules. Students can enjoy flexible scheduling with licensed instructors, offering lessons seven days a week from 8:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. For those ready to test, Coastline offers convenient weekday and weekend availability with licensed examiners.

Coastline instructors are passionate about serving the community. This passion is reflected in the dedication the team brings to driver education at local high schools, volunteer work with community initiatives and partnering with Mansfield ISD through sponsorships and event participation.

As car crashes remain a leading cause of death for teenagers, Coastline Academy's mission-driven approach offers families a trusted partner in preparing new drivers for the road. Coastline Academy is setting a new standard for driver education in Texas and beyond. NOW

Mansfield Unveils Two New Art Benches at Elmer W. Oliver Nature Park

The City of Mansfield unveiled the newest additions to the public art program in May with the installation of two monarch butterfly-inspired art benches at Oliver Nature Park.

These two pieces expand the City's growing collection of public art and offer visitors an opportunity to experience the park, at 1650 Matlock Road, in a new way.

"If you haven't been out to Oliver Nature Park to see the new monarch art benches, I encourage you to make the trip," said Council Member Todd Simmons. "They're a strong example of how public art can help shape shared spaces and bring people together."

Pascale M. Pryor of Firefly Metal Works used steel and poly lumber to create the "Blue Bench." This piece evokes the beauty and color of monarch butterflies against the sky as they lift into flight for migration.

Local Mansfield artists Mary Elizabeth and Eddie Phillips created the bench named "Wanderer." Inspired by the monarch butterfly's migration through Texas, this bench invites visitors to pause and rest within the wings of one of nature's most resilient travelers.

The steel framework has been filled with translucent plexiglass panels that cast shifting patterns of amber light, making each visit a new experience.

The installation reflects Mansfield's continued investment in arts and culture as part of the community's identity and public spaces. In 2023, the City of Mansfield adopted its first Cultural Arts Master Plan alongside a Percent-for-Art program, helping ensure that arts and culture play an active part in Mansfield's future developments.

Zoomed In: AJ Moss Jr.

By Sandra Walters

For AJ Moss Jr., sports aren't just a hobby, they're a passion woven into his everyday life. Whether he's playing, watching highlights or diving into documentaries, he soaks up every detail. "I couldn't believe it when my mom gave me the jersey," he said, still smiling as he wore his prized possession, a throwback high school jersey of former NBA player Allen Iverson.

AJ has watched so many sports documentaries that he knows Iverson's story well — how he played, everything. But to actually have something like this? "That's crazy!" AJ said. One of his mother's co-workers, Mrs. Williams, knew how much he likes sports and especially Allen Iverson, so she thought this would be the perfect gift for him.

Zoomed In: Calvin and Tiffany Williamson

By Sandra Walters

On field day, Calvin Williamson moved from one event to the next with determination, but what stood out most wasn't just his effort — it was the steady encouragement from his mother, Tiffany. Cheering from the sidelines, she celebrated every attempt, reminding him to have fun and keep going. "You've got this, Calvin!" she called out, her voice cutting through the noise of the crowd.

Calvin smiled often, glancing over to find her support whenever he needed a boost. Whether or not he won didn't seem to matter. What did matter was the bond they shared in that moment, one filled with pride, encouragement and joy. Field day became more than games. It became a memory of unwavering support.

Serenity

Advanced Dentistry

After shadowing different careers in college, Dr. Cristina Allala discovered her calling in dentistry. Ten years later, she brings specialized expertise and a spa-like atmosphere to Cedar Hill through Serenity Advanced Dentistry, a solo, minority, woman-owned private practice.

Dr. Allala graduated from Baylor College of Dentistry in 2016 and completed her Bachelor of Science from The University of Texas at San Antonio in 2012. Since opening her practice, she has built a loyal following of patients who have followed her from her previous office, drawn by her gentle approach and commitment to patient care.

What sets her practice apart is her advanced certification in Level 2 moderate sedation — a qualification most dentists do not have. This certification requires at least 60 hours of specialized instruction and successfully administering sedation to at least 20 patients under supervision. For patients who experience dental anxiety, this option can transform their experience, making procedures like extractions comfortable and stress-free.

"Another thing that sets our practice apart is our skill with dental surgeries," Dr. Allala said. "Here are some of my favorite quotes from patients:

"Regarding implants: 'My implant surgery went smoothly. They explained everything, kept me relaxed, and I had very little discomfort afterward.'

"Regarding tooth extractions: 'I had oral surgery done and was extremely nervous, but the doctor and team made me feel comfortable the entire time. The procedure was painless, and recovery was easy.'

"Regarding tooth fixed dentures: 'My experience with fixed dentures was great. Dr. Allala planned everything digitally, the surgery went smoothly, and I had no complications. I can eat comfortably now, and they feel like my own natural teeth.'"

Serenity Advanced Dentistry offers most dental procedures under one roof, including sedation dentistry, dental crowns, dentures, emergency treatment, oral surgery, dental implants, root canals, teeth whitening, extractions, clear aligners, gum grafts and periodontal therapy. The practice emphasizes privacy and comfort. The office features private treatment rooms that allow honest conversations between doctor and patient without worry of being overheard. The modern facility incorporates the latest dental technology while maintaining a calming, spa-like environment.

"We are not a corporation," Dr. Allala said. Unlike larger corporate dental practices, Serenity Advanced Dentistry remains independent, allowing Dr. Allala to focus on building genuine relationships with patients. All assistants are bilingual, ensuring Spanish-speaking patients feel comfortable and fully understand their treatment options.

Dr. Allala lives in DeSoto, just 10 minutes away from her office, keeping her deeply connected to the community she serves. She gives back by supporting the Friends of Tri-City Animal Shelter through monthly contributions, a cause close to her heart as a devoted pet lover. For families seeking personalized dental care in a welcoming, professional environment, Serenity Advanced Dentistry offers an alternative to corporate dental chains.
