FINALLY a way to fix the PAIN of a BULGING DISC

Are you suffering from back pain, arm or leg pain, numbness, tingling, or weakness in your arms or legs? Then it's likely you're suffering from a bulging disc. That's when one of your spinal discs is bulging and causing these, sometimes severe, symptoms because of the effect it's having on your nervous system.

You may have already had this diagnosed on an MRI and thought that there is little that can be done about it. Bad information is a major problem because, in the right hands, a lot can be done for you. To end the misery caused by bulging discs, you must have the right information.

Pay close attention because I'm going to destroy some important myths and give you the facts.

MYTH: Bulging disc problems will just "go away" with some rest.

FACT: If you are dealing with back pain, buttock pain, or leg pain, then you must seek help from a bulging disc specialist immediately. If left untreated, the problem can lead to permanent nerve damage and lifelong pain.

MYTH: Pain is the only problem associated with bulging disc issues.

FACT: In severe cases, this problem can lead to the inability to control your bowels, bladder, and sexual potency, resulting in embarrassing situations.

MYTH: You must take pain medications to deal with bulging discs.

FACT: Drugs like muscle relaxants, painkillers, narcotics, antidepressants, and anti-seizure medications have serious potential side effects and do not cure bulging discs.

MYTH: Stop exercising and get several weeks of bed rest to let the bulging disc recover.

FACT: Staying active can help relieve the pain and prevent it from getting worse. Staying inactive in bed could be the worst advice, based on a recent study in the Netherlands.

Dr. Carl McAfee, DC, and his team of doctors are bulging disc experts in Weatherford. This procedure does not require a hospital stay, and in most cases, you'll be able to continue with your normal daily activities with little interruption. The focus is on finding—and correcting—the original cause of the bulged disc.

According to Dr. McAfee, "We use a specialized digital X-ray motion study analysis to precisely diagnose the cause of your bulging disc. This means superior long-term results for most people." Eighty-eight percent of people find relief from the pain and associated symptoms. Because the treatment is non-surgical, safe, and easy, most patients report relief from their pain and associated symptoms early in the process.

Take the next step—end the suffering with an initial $29 consultation. Secure a thorough examination with McAfee Chiropractic.

Call 817-594-0281 to schedule your appointment. Mention this article (CODE: WN1109BC), and they will happily reduce the usual consultation fee of $275 to just $29! Only 100 reader consultations are available at this exclusively discounted rate.

MYTH: "I must have done something wrong to damage my disc."

FACT: Physical work or simply sitting at a desk for long periods can lead to bulging discs. Accidents and trauma can also be culprits. Pregnancy can cause damage as well. Disc bulges can happen to anyone, including super-fit celebrities like Tiger Woods, Sylvester Stallone, and British Olympic medalist Ian Wynne.

MYTH: Disc bulges or herniations require surgery.

FACT: No! There's been a huge breakthrough in the treatment of bulging discs.

MYTH: "There's nothing anyone can really do. I'm just stuck with this for the rest of my life."

FACT: With the correct treatment from a healthcare professional who specializes in bulging discs, you can find relief from the core cause and the symptoms.

MYTH: Getting a bulging disc properly diagnosed is expensive.

FACT: Not true. Dr. Carl McAfee and his team of doctors in Weatherford are currently offering an initial consultation with one of their specialists for just $29.

EMERGENCY SUPPORT

— By Amber D. Browne

A medical emergency can strike at any time, and having a prepared bystander nearby can increase the victim's chance of survival. According to the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, more than 800,000 people experience a heart attack annually across the nation. If an Automated External Defibrillator (AED) is acquired and administered to the cardiac arrest victim within the first minute, 90 percent live, according to the American Heart Association. Barbara Hummel, co-founder of the Parker County Hospital District Citizen EMS, is on a mission to add AEDs across the county and educate community members about life-saving techniques to increase awareness and preparedness should an emergency occur.

Barbara and her husband, Chris Hummel, co-founded the 501(c)(3) in 2024 to support Parker County paramedics and EMS employees. The two led the Weatherford Citizens Police Academy for more than a decade to support local law enforcement but disbanded the group about two years ago. With extra time on their hands, the couple agreed to form Citizen EMS at the request of Parker County Hospital District EMS Director Jim Backus, who has known the couple for years and knew they would be up to the task to support local emergency responders.

The nonprofit raises funds to add defibrillators across Parker County, focusing on rural areas, with the goal of one being located within four minutes of any potential cardiac arrest. Private and business donations to Citizen EMS have purchased 14 defibrillators, and other donations to the Parker County Hospital District have allowed for the purchase of about 15 more AEDs. The Hospital District plans to also purchase at least four each year to add to the project.

The GPS-tracked AEDs are stationed across the county including at churches, local businesses, the Sheriff's Office and the Parker County Chamber of Commerce, while others are presented to citizen volunteers who have been trained and are able to respond to emergency situations. "We donate them all back to the EMS, and then the EMS sends them out wherever they want them to go," Barbara said.

Citizen EMS currently concentrates its efforts on adding AEDs in Parker County, which is 900-plus square miles. Barbara wants to make them mandatory in new neighborhoods. "Why aren't they like fire hydrants? They can save a life," she said. "Ideally, they would be in homes and community neighborhoods. I think they should be like call boxes placed strategically on highways where they're available for people in sudden cardiac arrest," Barbara said. She suggests new home builders offer AEDs as an amenity to homebuyers.

Citizen EMS meets the second Thursday of every month at the EMS Training Facility in Weatherford, and they encourage residents to join. The group holds occasional classes to train area residents to work the defibrillators, as well as how to administer CPR and Stop the Bleed. CPR training is considered a necessity to learn. "Every minute that goes by that we don't have compressions on the chest, you lose 10 percent of your ability to survive," Jim said. "That's why it's very important to get the community involved, and the avenue to do that is the Citizen EMS."

Citizen EMS members include retired paramedics, nurses and others within the community. "We want people who care about the community, care about saving lives, care about the employees here," Barbara said.

Trained individuals can join the GoodSAM Responder app, which notifies them if someone is experiencing a cardiac arrest nearby. If they accept to aid in the crisis, the app will display a route to the emergency site, and it will inform dispatch. A video feed from the individual's app keeps dispatch informed until medics arrive. "The more people we get in Citizen EMS, the better off we all are," Jim said. "It's a safer community, and if something happens to you, or your family member, you're going to be taken care of."

Area residents who are passionate about saving lives and making a difference are invited to their monthly meetings. "We would love for anybody to come join us," Jim said.

As more volunteers are trained, the more help is available in emergency situations across the area. "I'm thrilled that they're out there because if it's me, I feel comfortable that somebody's going to come and help me," Barbara said.

The group also supports local EMS employees, including paramedics and dispatch. "It's to let them know that people out there are appreciative of what they do. These people are very well trained. They know their business," Chris said.

"We do some fundraising, too, so that we can provide birthday cakes for employees. We want them to feel we're here for the employees," Barbara said. "To us, it's not just about getting money for the defibrillator. It's putting back into the employees, too." Additionally, Citizen EMS volunteers at area events such as Parker County Peach Festival, Spark in the Park, Christmas on the Square and National Night Out.

"I can't be any more proud of the ambulances here and the staff here. They are cutting edge compared to a lot of other communities that we've seen," Barbara shared. "Parker County is the place to live for very good emergency care." NOW

Wolfpack Plumbing

AJ DeWolfe's story begins in Ireland, where his Irish godfather fostered a love for taking things apart and understanding how they worked. Whether it was a lawnmower or another piece of equipment, AJ often had tools in his hands from a very early age.

When AJ moved to Texas at 14 to live with his father, his dad, who owned his own plumbing company, met him at the airport and put a wrench in his hand. That moment marked the beginning of AJ's plumbing career. As a second-generation plumber, he learned the trade directly from his father and eventually earned his Responsible Master Plumber license, representing the highest licensing level in the trade.

In 2024, AJ and his wife, Amina DeWolfe, launched Wolfpack Plumbing in Willow Park. The husband-and-wife team combines AJ's technical expertise with Amina's operational and business experience. She holds an industrial and systems engineering degree from the Rochester Institute of Technology and a master's degree from UC Berkeley.

Wolfpack Plumbing offers a full range of residential plumbing services, from small faucet repairs to large home plumbing projects.

Services include drain unclogging, sewer and water line work, re-piping, water heater installation and repair, gas line work and kitchen and bathroom plumbing for remodels.

AJ has developed significant expertise in tankless water heater systems. "Tankless water heaters can be especially beneficial for families," he explained. Benefits include endless hot water, lower long-term energy costs, greater energy efficiency and space-saving design. Many gas utility companies also provide rebates for gas tankless water heaters due to their efficiency.

What sets Wolfpack Plumbing apart is their commitment to personal service. "When you call Wolfpack Plumbing, you get the Master Plumber every time," AJ stated. There are no layers of technicians or dispatch systems. Customers work directly with the person responsible for the license and the work.

The couple emphasized how much the plumbing industry has changed in recent years, with many companies bought by private equity firms focused on maximizing profit. As a locally owned family business, Wolfpack Plumbing offers fair and transparent pricing while taking time to fully explain problems and provide multiple repair options.

"We care," AJ said, describing their philosophy. He shared a story about a local family with children who lost heat during this winter's freeze. He quickly completed the repair, restoring their system fast enough that the family did not have to leave for a hotel.

AJ and Amina attend HighRidge Church Parker County and live in Willow Park, where their neighborhood has been an incredible support system. "When you support local businesses, you support neighbors," Amina emphasized. "Our goal is to build a reputation as a trusted local plumber families can rely on for years." NOW

Zoomed In: Nick Michels

By Amber D. Browne

Former professional basketball player and Aledo resident Nick Michels hopes to help others realize that money is not what makes a person rich through his book, Rich by Choice. Raised in a wealthy family, Nick watched his mother struggle to care for him and his three siblings after his parents divorced. "When I got older, my life came full circle because I realized that money was not everything. True joy comes from having peace, security, confidence and protecting what matters most to you," he said.

In his book, Nick encourages readers to determine who and what are important in their lives and what brings them the most joy through simple strategies. "When we're old and looking back, it's not the money we're going to think about. It's the life that's well-lived."

Zoomed In: Doug Jefferson

By Amber D. Browne

Doug Jefferson holds many roles at Weatherford College. This former Coyote received his associate degree at WC decades ago, and a housing supervisor position accepted in 1990 has kept him there.

Now serving as dean of student life and development, Doug supervises student housing, student clubs and organizations, the student life events calendar and the WC spirit groups. With a master's degree in counseling from Tarleton State University, Doug also oversees the Coyote Care Clinic and assists with mental-health caseloads.

"My job is a lot of different things. It starts at 7:00 in the morning when I get up and can go all the way to 12:00 at night," he said. "But I love it. It's my calling, my mission. This is my ministry."

Brock High School's Charlee Calhoun is named Ag Youth of the Month and is honored with a $1,000 scholarship.

The Class of 2026 wraps up their final year with Young Men's Service League-Aledo at a banquet at Doss Heritage and Culture Center.

Local artists receive Awards of Merit for their pieces at the 2026 Weatherford Art Association Members Show.

Madyson Stanford, Elisa Allen and Addison Cupak prepare for the dinner crowd at Mama's Pizza in Hudson Oaks.
