EDITOR'S NOTE

Hello, August!

I turn 61 years old this month. It's such a cliché, but time really does fly by as I get older. I can't believe 2020 will be gone in just four months. When I look back over my life, I vividly remember how it was to experience new things. Growing up, marriage, having kids, my career, all those things were new adventures that ended up creating my life. Now is the time for me to find a new adventure. My goal is to spend the next 35 years, if God gives them to me, doing my best to stay healthy and trying to make a positive impact on this world that has treated me so well.

This last year, my 60th, has been packed full of discovery and awareness. I have realized so much and finally made decisions that I should have made a long time ago. I have learned how to walk in my own skin, with my head held high, with no apologies. For the first time in my life, I truly feel to the depths of my soul that I am good enough. Good enough for God, and good enough for me. What a blessing turning 60 turned out to be!

As I continue to age, I might slow down in some respects, but I am grabbing life by the reins and riding this horse for all it's worth until the very end. I am going to explore new opportunities and say, "Yes," to those opportunities. I will never stop learning, educating myself about the world and changing when appropriate. This is my quest, God willing.

Cheers to my sixth decade!

Less Fat. More YOU. Science That Works.

CRYO SKIN

Cryoskin offers the most advanced non-invasive treatment solution for slimming and toning.

EFFECTIVE. PAINLESS. CONVENIENT.

CryoSlimming is a 40 minute treatment that uses thermoelectric cooling to freeze fat, causing the cell death of subcutaneous fat tissue without damage to the overlying skin. The average loss after 1 session is .5" to 1.5". The average loss after 5 sessions is 2" to 4". The most common slimming treatment areas are the abdomen, love handles, arms, double chin, thighs, and glutes.

TEXAS CRYOWORKS AND WELLNESS | 469.655.8925 502 Columbia Ave., Waxahachie | www.TexasCryoWorks.com In 2017, Jim and Lin Putnam moved from Colorado Springs to Dallas, and then found a little house in Waxahachie that desperately needed some love and care. About that time, at the age of 66, Lin suddenly needed emergency back surgery. "So, Jim moved us down here from Dallas, and I came home from the hospital to Waxahachie," Lin explained. The move proved to be very difficult. "I landed on the sofa, hobbling around my house, in lots of pain, doing physical therapy and not having a very good time."

Bored and lonely, one day she said to her husband, "I think I'm going to start a ladies' group." Jim was supportive of Lin, and the next thing she knew, Wacky Women in Waxahachie was born. Barely two years later, she now has more friends than ever! The ladies' group is not affiliated with politics or religion, but simply exists for women over 40 to meet, support each other and have fun in the process. If you've ever noticed a group of women visiting each other, hugging a lot, laughing up a storm and smiling from ear to ear, you were likely in the presence of Lin and the Wacky Women in Waxahachie.

Even though her surgery was a huge success, it took more than a year to recover. "That's where I was when I came up with this crazy idea," Lin said. "It originally started on the Nextdoor app. I just put out there, 'Gosh, is any other lady here looking for friends?' I found that, wow, there really were a few people."

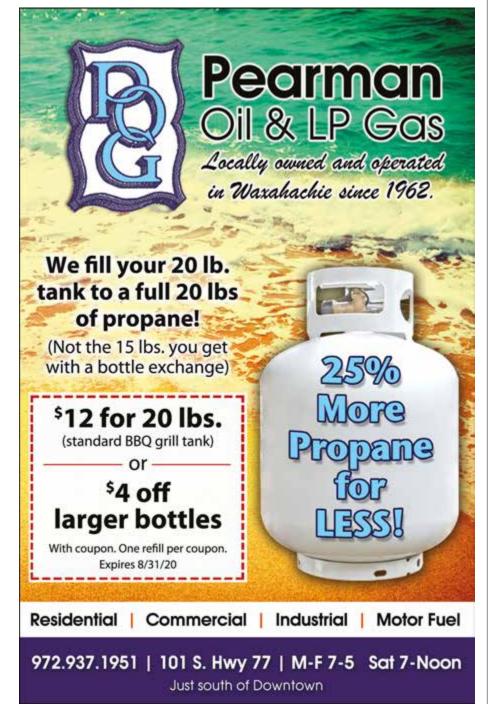

Then she created the Facebook page, expecting to get about 25-30 people. Soon they hit 50, and then 100. Now the group has more than 300 members — not all socially active, but feeding each other through Facebook, with friendship, support and encouragement. They have participated in some fundraising events, but more than anything, Lin's group is for women going through trials or having a hard time making friends. "I only qualify people by asking them, 'How did you find us, and can you confirm that you are over the age of 40?' That's the gentlest way I could think of to get a woman to say they're over the age of 40 and be happy about it." Lin said.

men NGE LIVES

On the group's Facebook page, you'll see a custom piece of art by Suzy Toronto that reflects just how clever this group's leader is. "I Googled 'wacky women' to see what kind of artwork I could find," Lin said. "That's when I found Suzy. It's all very wonderful and lighthearted. I told her of my endeavor, and she offered to personalize the picture I liked. The picture says Wacky Women of Waxahachie, but I wasn't about to ask her to change it." Such is Lin's sense of decorum.

Her husband says their home life has not been affected all that much by Wacky Women in Waxahachie, and he encourages Lin to do all these things. "Jim is like the perfect husband," Lin said. "We met in 1967 in school, after I ran away from the circus. He was the smartest person I'd ever met, and he's also the kindest man I know." Sadly, they broke up before their senior year, but they never got over each other. "After years apart, I started looking for him on the Internet — and finally found him 15 years later," Lin shared.

She and Jim married in 2012. During that time, Lin has owned her own business and worked as the executive administrative assistant for an international firm. She also gave life to one amazing girl, who gave her four beautiful grandchildren. Still, she continues to struggle to heal from a past that haunts her.

"This is probably the first time in my life that I've ever been a make-it-happen person. I grew up in a completely broken home and was always told that I had no talent and would never amount to anything," Lin said. "For years, I walked around believing that, although I knew it couldn't possibly be true. Then, I finally began to realize that I was more than I was told.

"As a child, my mother drug me through multiple bad situations, and then, she fell in love with a handsome trapeze aerialist. Go figure! Even in the circus while performing as a trapeze artist in the Flying Valentines, I was pushed to the background. My younger brother was also part of the act. He was billed as the star of the show, and I was the unimportant one."

One of the smartest things Lin ever did was leave the circus. "I made a plan for when we traveled to Dallas to work at the State Fair of Texas. On the last day of the fair, I simply disappeared. I had finally realized I could take ownership of my life," Lin explained. "It is, however, an ongoing struggle for me. I'll get really confident, and then something will happen, and I'll lose that confidence. It takes work for me to put it all back together again. I have learned not to do all the don'ts and how to do all the I Cans."

Spreading the I Can attitude to empower others is Lin's mission in Waxahachie. "I now have four administrators who help me keep everything organized," Lin said happily. With the pandemic, the group has not been able to get together as much, but they have stayed engaged on Facebook with things like posting your first concert or favorite plant. "We have also started a book club," Lin said. "Some of us, who feel safe enough, have met a few times in places that were not too crowded, and several of us met at a ranch for a trail ride!" Friendships are forming and Wacky Women in Waxahachie are gaining a life of their own — because one woman decided she deserved one, too! NOW

It was not entirely uncommon for young men of a certain era to lie about their age in order to enlist in the U.S. military. It was, however, unusual for any one soldier to accumulate the accolades bestowed upon Texan Audie Murphy, who would go on to be the most decorated American combat soldier of World War II.

Born June 20, 1925, in Kingston, Hunt County, Texas, Audie Leon Murphy was one of 12 children born to Emmett and Josie Belle Murphy, sharecroppers with little means. This humble beginning perhaps encouraged him to enlist in the Army at age 17 and did not stop him from going on to earn 33 military awards, including the Medal of Honor, as well as five additional honors from Belgium and France. It is believed he wounded, captured or killed some 240 enemies, while he, himself, was wounded three times and fought in nine major campaigns to survive the war.

Rising from army private to staff sergeant, Murphy also earned a "battlefield" commission to 2nd lieutenant during his three years of active combat. Released from the Army in September 1945, Audie made the cover of Life Magazine, and was invited to Hollywood by actor James Cagney.

After two challenging years with little work, Audie received bit parts in a couple of films. In 1949, he landed his first starring role in the film, Bad Boy. A year later, he signed a contract with what is today called Universal Studios, where he starred in 26 films between 1950 and 1965.

In 1955, he starred in the film adaptation of his own autobiography, To Hell and Back, which had been a bestseller in 1949. The film was Universal's highest grossing picture until being surpassed by Jaws in 1975.

Concluding his Universal contract in 1965. Audie went on to work with other producers and studios and would complete 44 feature films, including many westerns, during his career. It is reported that Audie earned about $3 million in his 23 years of acting.

Outside of acting, Audie was also a rancher and a successful racehorse owner and breeder. He was known as a gambler, winning and losing fortunes over sporting events and poker games.

Contrary to his military and acting persona, Audie was also a poet and songwriter, and had dozens of songs recorded by famed artists including Dean Martin, Charley Pride, Porter Waggoner, Roy Clark and many more.

Like many military veterans, Audie reportedly suffered from depression, insomnia and battle fatigue (now called post-traumatic stress disorder), and even became addicted to sleeping pills. He kicked his habit and began speaking publicly about the problems faced by returning military veterans, becoming a champion for Korean and Vietnam War veterans and encouraging the U.S. government to better address war's emotional impact and the resulting health care needs.

Audie's life was tragically cut short on May 28, 1971, when he was just 45 years old. On a business trip, Audie died in a plane crash, with the accident attributed to rain and fog. He was buried with full military honors in Arlington National Cemetery on June 7. His gravesite has become one of the most visited at the cemetery, second only to President John F. Kennedy's.

Audie, who had been married twice in his lifetime, was survived by his second wife of 20 years and their two sons, Terry and James. Terry founded the Audie Murphy Research Foundation to preserve his father's memory. The Audie L. Murphy Memorial Website showcases books, collectibles, media clips, photos and more as they relate to Audie's life and career.

Since his death, Audie's birthday, June 20th, has been dubbed Audie Murphy Day in Texas by both the state legislature and then-Governor George W. Bush. In 2013, Audie's only surviving sibling, Nadine Murphy, accepted the Texas Legislative Medal of Honor on Audie's behalf, awarded posthumously by Governor Rick Perry.

Audie's namesake website notes that he is truly a one-of-a-kind World War II veteran. "What Audie accomplished during this period is most significant and probably will never be repeated by another soldier, given today's high-tech type of warfare," the site states. "The U.S. Army has always declared that there will never be another Audie Murphy." NOW

Texas Cryoworks

Hours: Monday-Thursday: 9:00 a.m.-7:00 p.m.

John Zabojnik opened Texas Cryoworks and Wellness Center on October 17, 2017. At that time, John was an endurance athlete who had been training for Ironman and Ultraman triathlons for several years. "Cryotherapy was a total game changer for my recovery process," he explained. "It allowed me to recover rapidly, so I could get stronger faster by working harder day after day." After experiencing all the benefits of cryotherapy, John realized that not only is it great for athletes, but also anyone suffering from injury, inflammation, arthritis, back pain and joint pain. John had always been passionate about helping others, so he decided to make his life's mission about sharing his Cryotherapy discovery with others.

During the time he has been in business, John has seen his business grow in many different directions. "When we opened, we were focused on athletes, but quickly discovered there are far more people with aches, pains and stresses from daily life. We began to reinvest in different modalities that would benefit just about anyone," John said. "Our customers range in age from 12 to 90, and include everyone from athletes to seniors. Helping customers with back pain, achy joints, sore muscles and acute injury are what we do every day. We can treat the whole body or use a spot treatment method. Whole body cryotherapy triggers your body to attack inflammation from within and was originally developed to manage the symptoms of rheumatoid arthritis. They soon discovered that it was wonderful for any type of inflammation in the body, as well as speeding up the repair process of damaged muscle tissue."

Texas Cryoworks also offers a body contouring treatment called Cryoskin, an advanced non-invasive solution for slimming and toning. "Cryoskin Slimming treatments target fat areas by freezing fat cells, and your body naturally eliminates the dead cells through your lymphatic system," John explained. "We also offer CryoToning, which helps diminish the appearance of cellulite, fine lines and wrinkles. Both treatments are safe, affordable and painless alternatives to traditional surgical and body sculpting procedures."

"HELPING CUSTOMERS WITH BACK PAIN, ACHY JOINTS, SORE MUSCLES AND ACUTE INJURY ARE WHAT WE DO EVERY DAY."

Texas Cryoworks' newest therapy is called PEMF or pulsed electromagnetic field therapy. "PEMF is an electromagnetic field applied to a painful or dysfunctional area of the body. It works by reenergizing damaged cells through the induction of electrical changes within the cell that restore it to its normal healthy state. The body is capable of amazing things if you give it enough water, nutrients and energy at a cellular level. It's painless, powerful and very effective. The skeptics are my favorites!" John said with a grin.

If you are curious about learning and tracking your overall fitness journey, Texas Cryoworks offers the Fit3D Body Scan. You can track your losses or gains in BMI, fat and lean muscle content. This will enable you to track and visualize your success for the ultimate accountability.

Texas Cryoworks and Wellness has recently moved to a new location at 502 Columbia Avenue, Waxahachie. "We are now in a building that houses a plethora of wellness services, which include chiropractic care, acupuncture, massage therapy, lymphatic drainage and Thai Bodyworks," John said. "I think preventative wellness therapies will become more and more popular in today's environment. We really do have a complete wellness facility full of professionals that everyone can benefit from. Your health is an investment, not an expense." NOW

Andrea Reagor grew up watching her grandmother, Wanda Lou Reagor, cook delicious food for her community. "She catered and served our community for more than 30 years, on top of working at the Waxahachie High School cafeteria. She was the one who made the delicious homemade rolls that everybody loved," Andrea explained proudly.

Andrea inherited her grandmother's love of cooking and has followed in her footsteps with her own catering and personal meal prep business, Wanda Lou's Catering. During this pandemic, when so many children are at home from school, Andrea has cooked, with the help of community donations and volunteers, free lunches for many school students. "I cook with passion and love so that everyone tastes a bit of home," Andrea smiled.

Worcestershire sauce, to taste

lb. shrimp or beef sausage (optional) green onions, chopped

- 1. For pineapple salsa: Cut the pineapple in half, making 2 pineapple bowls. Hollow out the center of both halves; remove all the meat. Make sure both halves are empty, using a sharp paring knife and ice cream scooper. Set aside bowls.
- 2. Dice the meat of the pineapple into small cubes; place in a large bowl.
- 3. Dice tomatoes, onion, cilantro (reserve 1/4 bunch for later); add to pineapple.
- 4. Juice lemons; mix into pineapple mixture. Add 1 Tbsp. garlic salt and 1 tsp. ground cumin. Gently mix well; cover and set aside.
- 5. For dirty rice: Brown ground beef or turkey in a saucepan; drain lightly. Fat is needed here.
- 6. Add chili powder, 2 tsp. cumin, French onion soup mix, 1 Tbsp. garlic salt and water. Mix well; remove from heat.
- 7. Add the cooked rice and cream of mushroom soup; mix well. Set aside, covered, on low heat to keep warm.

- 8. In a skillet, cook the chicken breast with seasoning of your choice. I prefer Garlic Sriracha Seasoning. When chicken is fully cooked, not pink on the inside, remove from heat and dice. Cover; set aside.
- 9. In a saucepan, mix and warm teriyaki and Worcestershire sauce on medium-high heat.
- 10. Add chicken and shrimp or sausage, if using; stir until well coated and warm.
- 11. Retrieve hollowed pineapple bowls. Add half of the rice mixture to each bowl. Add sauce-covered meat on top of the rice mixture.
- 12. Top with pineapple salsa, green onions and chopped cilantro! Let's eat!
