EDITOR'S NOTE

Dance movement ...

One of my favorite childhood photos is a posed, professional photo of all four of us sisters who were taking dance lessons from the famed Baby and Faye Hoffman sisters in Waco, who opened their home/dance studio following retirement from the NYC dance community. They were very demanding and were a part of my recovery from having been crippled at age 7. The photo was taken after I had danced my senior recital en pointe, a miracle since I had only taken dance lessons for four years. As I look at that photo showing me in my black, sequined tutu, surrounded by my sisters in their shiny, sequined costumes, I'm still proud of the accomplishment. The Hoffmans' home/studio is now the Historic Waco Foundation headquarters. With their bright orange hair and costume flair, the Hoffmans made stars of generations of dancers.

Fast forward through decades, and I was readying my daughter for several years for her sparkly dance recitals. Now as Grandma, I'm again on hair/makeup duty during my two granddaughters' annual dance recital, which includes six costume changes for hip-hop, tap, ballet and dance acro. The dance styles may change, but the demanding teaching, the making of stars, sparkle, fun and a sense of accomplishment are still alive! Bravo, my darlings.

CHALLENGES AND VICTORIES

— By Virginia Riddle

He arrived three months early and spent his first 74 days on Earth in Hillcrest Hospital of Waco and Cook Children's Medical Center of Fort Worth. At a birth weight of 2 pounds, 11 ounces, Connor Chaney learned to fight for his life early. His journey has been one with ups and downs, and will continue to be so, but in May 2025, he graduated from Blooming Grove High School with a job offer in hand. Connor chooses a positive attitude when looking into the future. "I love the Bible verse, Jeremiah 29:11," he said quoting, "'For I know the plans I have for you,' declares the Lord, 'plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future.'"

Connor's childhood was full of school days and hospital stays, mostly at Cook Children's Medical Center in Fort Worth. Multiple surgeries and seizures have been major challenges. As a Corsicana resident, with parents, Richard and Nancy Chaney, Connor was a student in Corsicana ISD at Navarro Elementary through fourth grade. His middle school and senior high years have been spent in Blooming Grove ISD. "Having 'aged out' of Cook's, Connor now receives care through the neurology department at Tarrant County Neurology, which is associated with Texas Health Harris Methodist Hospital Fort Worth," Nancy stated. "It was hard to leave Cook's. The staff were like family. However, through all the surgeries and seizures, Connor smiles. We have a prayer wall and graduation wall at home. The thoughts help us through tough days."

In typical fashion, Connor handles his current treatments in brain and nerve stimulation with a quip and smile, "I'm magnetic." Nancy agreed, "People do gravitate to him and want to meet him."

Richard and Nancy married when Connor was 7 years old. She adopted Connor when he was 11 years old, but Richard has been there throughout Connor's entire journey to give him piggyback rides and to take him hunting, fishing and RV camping.

A Navarro County Precinct 3 employee, Richard works with large equipment, and Connor has always loved the big movers and haulers. “He knows big equipment,” Richard explained. Connor likes to collect keys, fill up feeders and hunt hogs and deer. Last year, he brought down an 11-point buck from 50-yards away with a Mossberg Patriot 243.

At BG High School, Connor played the French horn in the marching band, and he’s proud of his senior entry in the school’s yearbook. He is proud of lettering in band, of his senior ring and taking the senior walk with his Senior Class and the students who will be the Class of 2037. He follows a heritage at BG set by his mom when she was a high school cheerleader and the homecoming queen. “Everyone in Blooming Grove has been there for Connor, aka CC,” Nancy said.

With Mom at her Navarro College job and Dad at work, both parents worried throughout Connor’s school days and lived with a phone. “The first words when we call each other are,

‘Connor’s OK,’ then we can go on with, ‘Now, can you pick up bread?’” Nancy explained. “This worry still continues today, but God has held tightly onto each of us.” Her advice to other parents of medically challenged kids is, “Hang onto each other and the Lord.”

Grandparents and the family’s Northside Baptist Church family have been there to help, too. “There’s not enough time for me to tell how much that’s meant to us,” Nancy reflected. Richard is a Northside deacon, and the family is active in the church’s nursery and as church greeters. Connor was honored during the church’s recent Senior Sunday.

“Pastor Daniel Harper is one of my mentors,” Connor shared. Even though his life hasn’t been easy, Connor empathizes with others. “I see people all over who are homeless with no family or a bed to sleep in and even going through similar struggles. I know that I am blessed.”

As Connor approached graduation, Richard and Nancy were concerned about his future. Connor has been saving money for a tractor and loves to save Chick-Fil-A points, but they wondered about his job prospects since he isn’t allowed to drive because of his seizures. The answer came when, due to Connor’s love of big machinery, the family visited Bobcat of Corsicana during the company’s opening.

“The staff was impressed by ‘that cool kid,’ and asked Connor to come back the next week,” Nancy recalled. “They gave him a tour, lots of gifts and a job as a Junior Brand Ambassador with his own signature skid steer series — the T86! With the job offer, Connor was celebrated by his fellow BG seniors with a signing day before graduation.

“We will take whatever the good Lord brings to Connor’s future,” Richard added.

With nearly always a smile that lights his countenance; a positive attitude; a sense of humor; an almost encyclopedic knowledge of numbers, dates, Scriptures and types of big equipment; Connor faces his daily medical challenges. “Another one of my favorite Scriptures is Psalm 18:2,” he said, reciting it quickly. “The Lord is always with me. I’ve never asked, ‘Why me?’, but I am ready to be seizure free. However, I know I’m not in control. God is.” NOW

By Virginia Riddle

After growing up in Mount Ida, Arkansas, Weldon Lee McDougale joined the U.S. Air Force for eight years. He describes himself as a “Jack of all trades,” having had jobs in sales, construction, truck driving and janitorial work. “I can do just about anything.”

Curious about his family’s roots, Weldon traveled to 32 states doing genealogy research. He enjoys the Corsicana Public Library’s Genealogy Room where he also volunteers. “Additionally, I volunteer through Immaculate Conception Catholic Church’s food pantry, the American Legion, the Corsicana Senior Center and Chapter 1009 Vietnam Veterans of America.”

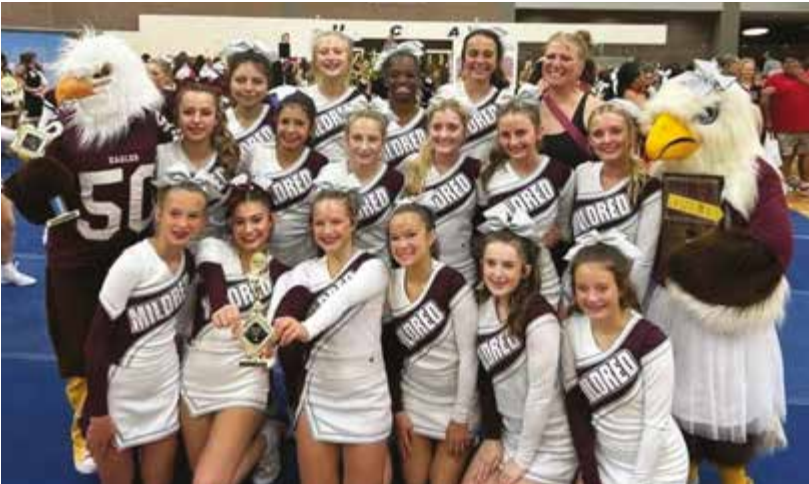

Weldon likes to fish, travel and watch the Saints and Broncos. With family nearby, he enjoys life in Navarro County. “We have a city way, but we’re still a small country-place.”

Hours: Monday-Friday: 8:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m.

A mainstay in Corsicana since 1938 when Joe Garner founded what was then known as City Office Supply, today's CTWP lives up to its mission statement: CTWP Believes in Customers for Life. "Later the business' name was changed to The Copy Center," Branch Manager Chuck Miller stated. "CTWP acquired The Copy Center in 2018, and the name became CTWP Copy Center.

"Our goal is to exceed customers' expectations in everything we do," Chuck continued. "Our products and services focus on efficiency and cost savings for companies and organizations of all sizes." CTWP offers copy machines, a wide array of office supplies, copying, a full-service print shop, passport photos, office furniture/equipment and janitorial supplies. Vendors include Konica Minolta, Kyocera, Lexmark, Xerox, Brother, KIP and FP Mailing Solutions. "We support and service what we sell," Chuck explained. "All of our techs who service our copiers are certified technicians. Our professional graphic designers do custom design work for customers."

Customers can get a free quote on projects online within 24 hours or in person. In addition to the above products, the staff can help customers with managing important documents, files and records. Printing, scanning and faxing are available.

Founded in 1979 by David Willie, CTWP employs 120 people in seven locations statewide with other locations in Waco, Temple, Bryan/College Station, Marble Falls,

San Antonio and San Angelo. The Corsicana office has 11 employees and serves all of Navarro and Ellis counties. The business can sell/service companies nationwide.

The company is a member of all its locations' Chambers of Commerce, the Business Technology Association, and it participates in Rotary International activities companywide. Chuck shared, "CTWP donates and participates with charities and community nonprofit events throughout the year. We were proud to receive the Corsicana & Navarro County Chamber of Commerce Small Business of the Year Award in 2025, and CTWP has been awarded the Best of the Best for Office Supplies/Print Shop every year 2010-2025." ENX Magazine named CTWP a 2024 Elite Dealer, and CTWP appeared on the magazine's cover in December 2024. "This recognition places CTWP among a prestigious group of distinguished honorees in the industry nationwide," Chuck stated. "Being part of this exclusive list highlights the exceptional work, leadership and impact CTWP has made in the industry. It's a great honor to be celebrated among the best in this field."

A Corsicana native, Chuck has family roots in Navarro County dating back to 1850. "Living and working for over 35 years in advertising in Dallas, I welcomed the change of moving back to the small town where I was from," he shared. "Corsicana has affordable living, a slower pace, no crime, beautiful parks, and everything you need is less than a 10-minute drive. I have a background in advertising, graphic design and art directing — experience which was a natural fit for a print shop. I also have an extensive background in customer service from working directly with clients in my previous positions."

As with many company managers today, Chuck says one of the most challenging aspects of his job is finding new employees. "If you are looking for a job, stop by and see me! We are always looking for good candidates," he said.

Chuck added, "CTWP Copy Center lives up to its motto: CTWP — Your hometown choice for all your business needs and your copier company." NOW

Does fear of COPD flare-ups keep you close to home?

The ENDURA-1 clinical research study is currently seeking volunteers to evaluate an investigational medication for adults with COPD.

Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease (COPD) is a broad term that comprises several ongoing lung conditions such as emphysema and chronic bronchitis. Key signs and symptoms may include difficulty breathing, tiredness, and a chronic cough (with or without mucus). Symptoms may get worse at times, called "exacerbations." These flare-ups may do further damage to the lungs, so it's important to effectively treat COPD.

ologic medicine given as shots just under the skin. They want to see if it can lower the number of moderate/severe exacerbations (symptom flare-ups) and improve symptoms and quality of life compared to placebo* when used as add-on therapy. Researchers also want to assess how safe the investigational medication is in this population.

*Shots with no medicine in them

Right now, a research study is enrolling adults with uncontrolled moderate to severe COPD. Study doctors are assessing an investigational medication – a type of bi-

You may qualify to participate in this study if you:

- Are age 40 to 80.
- Have moderate to severe COPD.
- Are a current OR former smoker.
- Have had at least one exacerbation (symptom flare-up) in the past 12 months that meet certain requirements.

Length of time in the study will vary by participant but is expected to last a minimum of 1 and up to 2 years during which there will be, on average, about one visit per month.

Qualified participants will be reimbursed for study-related travel expenses and they will be provided with investigational medication or placebo, rescue medication, and study-related medical care.

IN THE KITCHEN WITH

TIM BRADY

— By Virginia Riddle

Growing up in Mississippi and Texas, Tim Brady helped his mother and grandmother make wedding cakes. Although he enjoys home cooking, his Mississippi roots bring him back to Cajun cooking, too.

The service manager for Huffman Communications, Tim applies his work skills, upfitting police vehicles and repairing radios, when at the Palace Theatre. “I helped restore the Palace Theatre and am now the technical director,” he shared. “Additionally, with the help of my wife, Karla, and friends, we run Holy Grounds, Corsicana First Baptist Church’s coffee shop. I also sing in the choir.

“I enjoy baking and decorating birthday, wedding and shower cakes for family and friends,” Tim said. “There’s a creative outlet to it and the connections to the past when using old family recipes.” NOW

Chicken Pasta Salad

Either grilled chicken or chicken cooked in a slow or pressure cooker can be used for this recipe. Serves 8.

Dressing:

- 1 cup mayonnaise
- 1 cup coleslaw dressing

Pasta:

- 1 12-oz. pkg. farfalle pasta, cooked according to pkg. instructions and drained
- 1 20-oz. can pineapple chunks, drained

- 1 14-oz. can mandarin oranges, drained
- 1 cup celery, chopped
- 2 green onions, sliced
- 1 cup red grapes
- 3/4 cup dried cranberries
- 1/2 cup cashews
- 2 boneless skinless chicken breasts, cooked and diced
- Lettuce (optional)

1. For the dressing: In a bowl, mix the mayonnaise and coleslaw dressing; set aside.
2. For the pasta: In another large bowl, add the pasta, pineapple, mandarin oranges, celery, onions, grapes, cranberries, cashews and chicken.

3. Pour the dressing over the pasta salad; toss to coat. If desired, serve individual salads on green lettuce leaves.

Mexican Lasagna

- 1 16-oz. box lasagna noodles
- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1 1-oz. pkg. taco seasoning
- 1 8-oz. jar picante sauce
- 1 16-oz. pkg. sharp cheddar cheese, shredded

1. Preheat the oven to 350 F.
2. In a saucepan, cook the noodles according to package instructions; set aside.
3. In a skillet, brown the ground beef; drain. Add the taco seasoning and picante sauce; mix well.
4. In a 9x12-inch baking dish, alternate layers of the meat sauce, pasta and cheese, beginning and ending with the meat sauce.
5. Bake for 30 minutes.

Sweet Potato Stuff

- 3 cups sweet potatoes, mashed
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup milk
- 2 eggs
- 3 Tbsp. flour
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1 tsp. cinnamon

Topping:

- 1/3 cup self-rising flour
- 1 cup nuts, chopped
- 1/3 cup butter, melted
- 1 cup coconut
- 1 cup brown sugar

1. In a blender or with a hand mixer, mix all the sweet potato ingredients together; pour the mixture into a baking dish.
2. In another bowl, mix all the topping ingredients; cover the sweet potato mixture with the topping.
3. Bake at 375 F for 25 minutes.
